ALL THE NEWS FROM NEARBY TOWNS

PETECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR. WILLIAMS GROVE, Pa., August 29. The broad avenues through the displays of machinery were taxed to their utmost today to permit the passage of the visitors, and, although they had been well surinkled, the feet of thousands soon wore them into a mass of blinding dust which settled down upon the clothing of all. It even seemed to affect the voices of the 300 fakirs on the grounds, but they cried their wares as lustily as usual and tempted the dimes and quarters from the young men and maidens who surrounded their stands and were their who surrounded their stands and were their most liberal patrons.

Hon. J. H. Brigham, of Ohio, Worthy Master of the National Grange, delivered an address especially directed to farmers, urging them to organize as all other industrial workers had done. He was followed by A. J. Devoe, the New Jersey weather prophet, who explained to the farmers how they can forecast the weather and protect their crops. The liveliest speech of the week thus far, and the one which attracted the biggest audience of the week, was the one this afternoon by Hon. Victor E. Piolett, of Bradford, Pa. The old gentleman had his dander up at the FREE TRADE SPEECH, as he termed it, which was delivered by Senator Brown yesterday, and he hurled great chunks of protection arguments at the heads of the farmers in the audience. He said he had disliked to break from party associations in his old days, but he had to abandon the Democracy and vote for Har-rison when Cleveland and his free trade triends tried to ruin the industries of the country.

He continued: "The efforts of the farmer

He continued: "The efforts of the farmer to maintain his proprietorship and his power depends upon the success of the Republican party in carrying out the pledges in their last national platform. Farmers everywhere ought to stand with that political party which has promised to protect our industries. When Congress meets in December the farmers intend to remind these gentlemen of the promises they made at Chicago, and they expect them to wipe out the internal revenue system and to enact whatever measures are needed to further protection to our industries. I ask the farmer to trust Benjamin Harrison. It he proves as faithless and min Harrison. It he proves as faithless and as false as did Cleveland he will meet with

SENT BY BUSE.

The concluding address of the afternoon was made by Dr. Willets, ex-President of the Michigan State College, and now Assistant Secretary of Agriculture. He was sent here by Secretary Busk, who is detained at the National Encampment at Milwaukee. Dr. Willets showed the great practical value of the work of the Agricultural Department to the farming interests of the country, and that the odious name "Pumpkin Seed Department" was not rightly bestowed upon it. Speaker Boyer and Governor Beaver have written that they will be here to address to-morrow's meeting.

A CHAPTER OF ACCIDENT.

It Did Not Pay to Start a Fire Under a Balky Tenan. ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

BEAVER FALLS, August 28.-Yesterday Parmer Nichols, who lives near Raylton, a firmiles from here, took a novel way to start's team of balky horses. He was haul-ing in a heavy load of oats from his fields when the horses balked. After every effort had been made to start them without success, he kindled a fire under them, when started, pulled the wagon over the fire and the fire communicated to the oats, the whole load in a few minutes being a mass of

The horses grew frantic with the heat and dashed for the barnyard, throwing the driver from his seat. The wagon passed over one of his feet and seriously injured him. The frantic animals then ran into the barnyard and set fire to several stacks of oats, and in an incredible short time Farmer Nichols was mourning the loss of his entire crop. The wagon was completely destroyed, nothing remaining but the iron.

SPECIAL TRLEGHAN TO THE DISPATCH.] JOHNSTOWN, August 28 .- At a special meeting of the Johnstown borough Council to-night it was decided to erect the Frank-lin street bridge on the old site at once. Most of the iron lies in the river and can be used. This bridge gave way to-day under a used. This bridge gave way to-day under a heavy loaded wagon and a serious accident was narrowly avoided. Council also decided to repair the other bridges and their action is approved, although something should have been done long ago.

Two boys found the body or a small child lying in the grass along the river near Sang Hollow to-day, while gathering black-berries. At another time he put a poisonous pow-der in their food, which they ate, and again a physician had great trouble in saving their lives. She is afraid he will yet suc-ceed in his evil designs. The man was arrested and is now in the lock-up. He denies the whole affair, and claims that his wile does not love him and is taking this plan to get rid of him.

The doctors said I was in consumption, and that they could do nothing for me, but advised me, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine two or three months I was cured, and my health remains good to the present day."—James Birchard, Darien, Conn.
